'Easy Being' March 2009 RETAIL e-newsletter

Greetings subscribers. Our thoughts are still very much with everyone touched by the recent bushfires in Vic. What can we all do to help? Besides donating money & resources, it is easy to feel helpless in the wake of such tragedy. However there is another, much larger scale at which we can all help.

It is known that Climate Change will bring about more—and more severe— natural events such as this tragedy. So I urge you all to make this your motivation to live as sustainably as you can, and encourage all around you to do the same. We need to reduce our impact on climate change as much as we humanly can to reduce the risk of more tragedies occurring.

- If you have not already—switch to 100% green power. Choose to now, and make the phone call. The cost to you is miniscule compared to the cost to people suffering now—and who will suffer in the future—as a result of Climate Change.
- There are so many other ways you can help I cannot list them all. Car pool, walk, ride—reduce your usage of fossil fuels. Buy local; support local producers. Choose organic....

Be prepared to pay more for a product that will not pollute the earth, such as green power. Make the mental connection that your choices effect our planet, even if you can't see the direct link. Think about everything you do and influence everyone you can so we can collectively slow the warming of our planet.

This is what we can do to help reduce the risk of similar tragedies occurring again.

Green home & food solutions

Fowlers Vacola: preserving means you can take advantage of local seasonal fruit & veg when they are in glut, and enjoy them all year. We stock the new electric preserving kits, plus bottles, lids, rings, tongs, openers, jamsetta for jam and more.

Onya Weigh bags: a pouch of 5 or 8 lightweight, see-through sacks for weighing your fruit & veg. Handy clip clips pouch to your bag so you never forget them! A fantastic gift for everyone.

Rechargeable batteries and battery chargers: re-use your batteries over and over; different styles available including some with 12 volt adaptors.

Workshops coming up:

We will be running some practical, informal workshops on the second Sunday of most months—come along to our shop from 10-11am, grab a cuppa and learn some of the practical products available to help you live more sustainably!

- Sunday, March 15: Modern cloth nappies and accessories
 - Sunday, April 19th: Energy saving products – LED lighting, Future Switch, & Clear Comfort window insulation
 - Sunday, May 17th: Everyday green products and how they help the environment: recycled paper products, cleaning & laundry, food-ware, things for kids
- RSVP essential: call 9718 0126 or click here to email us.
