Easy Being November 2009 RETAIL e-newsletter

Greetings to all,

Another exciting month has passed for us. I have completed my training as a Home Sustainability Assessor with the Australian Government's Green Loans program and am really excited by the prospect of speaking with people about how to make their homes more sustainable and the ripple effect this can have through the community in helping everyone live more sustainably.

We are also about to move shop to a much larger premises, which will enable us to showcase the larger household items we are now offering—such as evacuated tube hot water, grey-water systems, bio-paints, and passive solar heating systems. Our new shop is still in Hurstbridge, and just over the road from our current shop. We expect to be opening there in late November. We're also currently overhauling our website to make things easier for our on-line customers and to better accommodate our constantly growing product range. Thanks as always for your support!

Wishing you a lovely month,

Lucinda

NEW Products this month

Pop-in Nappies*

A one-size-fits-most, coverless, all-in-two nappy system. From birth to potty training. The Pop-In Original is made from 70% bamboo and 30% cotton. The shell is waterproof, breathable and soft. Double gussets at the legs provide superior containment.

Available in 5 neutral colours.

In store, soon on-line

Hughie Sink

The Hughie Sink makes re-using water simple for all the family. Water used when washing hands, vegetables or dishes can easily be saved and used for watering pot plants or the garden, instead of going down the drain.

Baby Nova Glass bottles*

Glass feeding bottles are eco-friendly and Baby Nova lead free glass bottles don't contain nasty toxins. The toughened glass bottles come with a round, slow flow anti-colic silicone teat, polypropylene screw-on collar, lid and bottle cap for easy transport of liquids. Cute designs.

Bio Wall Paints and Pigments*

Bio wall paints contain no lead, glycol derivatives, aromatic hydrocarbons or styrene

Free Home Sustainability Assessments NEW

Find out what you could be saving at your place!

Lucinda Flynn (from Going Green Solutions) is now a partner in the Australian Government's Green Loans Program. Green Loans is funding free home sustainability assessments to show you how to save energy and water and reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

The program also offers interest-free Green Loans for recommended improvements. To register your interest in a free home sustainability assessment
