Reusable food wraps have a new playmate: Agreena 3 in 1

Do you have a secret (or not-so-secret) stash of plastic cling wrap in your drawer? Here's a great new alternative to single-use plastic for wrapping food or sealing leftovers – and it won't leach any nasty chemicals into your food or your life. PLUS it can also substitute for aluminium foil and baking paper! Who is this new wonder-kid in the playground of eco friendly food wraps? Meet Agreena 3 in 1.

Going Green Solutions, leaders in sustainability since 2006 are delighted to introduce Agreena 3 in 1 to our range of reusable food packaging. The Agreena wrap is a very thin, very flexible wrap made of food grade silicone. It can wrap around sandwiches, make an air tight seal on a bowl of food, line a baking sheet – or cover the food in your oven to prevent burning. With appropriate care and use, it will last for years – and when it does tear or break, it can be returned to Agreena for recycling. This beautiful wrap replaces products that could end up in land fill – and it will do no harm to your body or the oceans or the earth.

The Agreena wrap was designed by Mel Joy from Melbourne's Yarra Valley, who then figured out how to get them manufactured ethically and safely, and has brought them to market. They are now ready and waiting to leap off the shelf and into your life.

Mel Joy has been meticulous in ensuring the quality of her wraps, which have been tested by SGS Laboratories, headquartered in Geneva Switzerland. As she says, 'it's a very discerning demographic we're dealing with here.'

Each box of Agreena wraps includes 2 large (30 x 30cm) and 2 small (20 x 20cm) wraps and retails at Going Green Solutions for $24.95. Imagine how quickly they will pay for themselves as they substitute single-use rolls of plastic, tin foil and baking paper. They are available from our shop in Hurstbridge or through our online shop goinggreensolutions.com.au
